Germans Wrathful at Effort to Grab Bergdoll

ALLEGED ATTEMPT MADE TO KIDNAP AMERICAN SLACKER NEAR BERLIN

BERLIN, Jan. 26.—In the belief that American government officials or officers of the American Army of Occupation were behind a recent sensational attempt to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, rich Philadelphia draft evader, at Ebersbach today, the German press throughout today printed indignant editorials demanding penitentiary sentences for two Americans as well as for the German members of the kidnapping party.

The Frankfurter Zeitung and several Berlin papers characterized the event as a "wild West film spectacle," while the town of Ebersbach, where Bergdoll was found while on the way to a relative's wedding party, was aroused to a frenzy of excitement over the event. Detectives Charles Neaf and Frank Zimmer of Denver, Colo., were jailed there and are awaiting trial.

According to newspaper accounts Bergdoll and an alleged army deserter named Stecher motored to the Ebersbach railway station on Saturday for the purpose of eluding the bride and groom and were waiting the other wedding guests when suddenly an automobile arrived. Several men surrounded the bride and groom and Detective Neaf is alleged to have drawn a revolver, saying to Bergdoll: "Halt, or I will fire."

BULLET STRIKES BRIDE. Bergdoll threw up his hands, striking the detective's hand as he did so. The revolver went off, the bullet wounding the bride in her hand. Bergdoll then fled to his automobile and together with Stecher. The detectives pursued Bergdoll in another car, firing, but a bullet struck the car, forcing the chauffeur to halt the car. Police then arrested the two Americans.

The authorities in Baden declared the would-be kidnapers came from Speyer, a town in the region bordering the occupied zone, equipped with weapons and handbags. The men said they had been promised 10,000 marks in case of success. The chauffeur is said to have confessed to assistance in a plot to bring Bergdoll to justice, adding that each was to get a $100 reward.

LENINE GAINING POWER. Caminetti Says Bolshevism is a Greater Menace Now Than Ever.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The Senate Immigration Committee today concluded its hearings on the Johnson bill to practically suspend immigration for one year after hearing the views of Anthony Caminetti, Commissioner-General of Immigration.

Committee members indicated that the measure would not be reported to the Senate in the form in which it was passed by the House and Chairman Colt predicted new features probably would be incorporated.

PERCENTAGE BASIS. Chairman Colt expressed the opinion that the committee would look with favor on provisions of a bill introduced by Senator Dillingham, Republican, Vermont, which would restrict immigration on a percentage basis, based on the number of aliens from various countries already admitted.

Committee members were said to favor features of the Sterling bill restricting immigration and providing for appointment of a board to study immigration problems.

Today's sessions were marked by clashes between Commissioner Caminetti and committee members. The Senators attempted to ascertain whether the commissioner favored suspension of immigration but he refused to commit himself.

WILL BREAK RECORDS. Unless steps are taken to restrict admission of aliens, Caminetti asserted, the influx will break previous records before July 1. He urged Congress to strengthen the barriers against undesirable.

After Commissioner Caminetti had declared Lenin's power in Russia was stronger than a year ago and that Bolshevism was a greater menace than ever, Senator Colt said immigration should not be suspended because of a fear of Bolshevism.

While Caminetti was declaring that dangerous radicals were leaving Russia and attempting to reach the United States, Senator Colt urged him to "come back to earth."

The chairman said he had grave doubts that there would be a marked increase in immigration, as the industrial depression in many parts of the country would serve to check

JAPS :: PROMISE :: CRIME :: QUIZ. Note on Killing of Langdon is Answered.

The late Lieut. W. H. Langdon, U.S.N., whose slaying at Vladivostok by a Japanese sentry has become an international incident.

REPLY OF NIPPON FAILS TO ANSWER QUESTIONS RAISED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Developments in the Japanese situation today, following the attention given that subject by members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday in questioning Undersecretary of State Davis on the cable situation, were pointed to tonight as indicating that the redefining of policy between the two countries would, for a time at least, overshadow in importance all other questions.

A note from Japan late today promising thorough investigation of the killing of Lieut. W. H. Langdon, American naval officer, by a Japanese sentry at Vladivostok, was interpreted in connection with earlier expression of regret by Japanese officials as meaning that the incident, notwithstanding its gravity, will finally be adjusted so as to not delay solution of other problems between the two countries.

The note, which was in reply to the one sent two weeks ago by the American government, was said at the State Department not to meet the points raised by this government, but to constitute merely an acknowledgment of the communication from the United States.

Admiral Gleaves reported to the Navy Department today that his inquiry had developed that Langdon was the victim of an unwarranted attack. The Japanese have not completed their court-martial of the sentry.

MUST DEFER SOLUTION. The Japanese question, it is understood, will be the first to claim the attention of Secretary Colby when he returns to the State Department tomorrow after his South American trip. Notwithstanding reports of satisfactory progress made and the evident desire of the two countries to approach the problems in a mutual spirit of good feeling, it was felt tonight final solution must be deferred until the next administration.

It was pointed out only a few weeks remain under the present administration, and it was also indicated in some quarters that the program made by the International Communications Congress on its recommendation of the farthest policy to be adopted by Great Britain in the next few months must inevitably be taken into account before the United States can determine its program in the Pacific along broad lines in the light of the post-war conditions.

CHIEF'S MISSION. The mission of Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, to confer with officials at London, it was said, had been postponed. His subject discussion of American public opinion on relations with Japan in connection with the proposed renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, which expires by limitation in July, and influence in shaping the British foreign policy by the colonies participating in the imperial conference in the spring.

Immediate progress is expected to be made by Secretary Colby in taking up the question of amending commercial treaties with Japan or the drafting of new American-Japanese treaties as a result of conversations that have just been concluded concerning the rights of Japanese nationals to this country by Colonel S. Morris, American Ambassador to Japan, and Baron Shidehara, Japanese Ambassador.

A report of Chinese government, which dealt particularly with claims by the Japanese of racial discrimination through alien land legislation, was said to have been received by the State Department.

RECALLS RED VOW. Mr. Spargo called the committee's attention to the avowed purpose of the Bolshevik leaders to destroy the present economic system of the world. He asserted that the United States would have to advance billions of dollars of credit to the Soviet government to finance the proposed resumption of trade. He also pointed out that it would require billions of dollars of American capital to develop the concessions recently granted by the Soviet government to American promoters, notably Washington, D. C. Vanderbilt.

He warned that the Soviet leaders, after obtaining vast credits in America and luring millions of dollars of American capital into Russia, might repudiate their obligations and confiscate the capital and topple over the whole financial structure of the world.

The humanitarian aspects of the situation were evoked by the committee by Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blitch and Miss Lucy Branham, representing the American Women's Emergency Committee. They complained that they were unable to get relief for the Russian children.

They produced a letter from Secretary of State Colby, dated last July, in which he promised to take steps to relieve the Russian children, but urged that relief to Russia be withheld until the Russian government released American citizens who were being held in prison.

FAR FROM CONVINCED. It was evident when the day's session ended that the majority of the members of the committee were still far from convinced that the Russian situation was ripe for a resumption of trade. By their questions they clearly indicated their hostility to the resolution at this time. They frequently PARKS FLY IN SENATE. Republican and Democrat Leaders Clash in Tariff Bill Drive.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Republican and Democratic Senate leaders today had a head-on collision today when the former started a drive to put the Fordney emergency tariff bill. Republican suggestions of a filibuster brought on the clash. Senator Underwood of Alabama, minority leader, and other prominent Democrats denying that filibustering was in progress or contemplated.

The Democrats expressed willingness to vote after "proper and legitimate" debate and charged that the Republicans did not expect the bill to pass and sought to place the blame on Democratic opponents.

Senator Underwood said the measure, even if passed, would be vetoed by President Wilson because, he said, it was "repugnant" to Democratic tariff principles. He disclaimed having received any direct information from the President, however.

Senator Penrose presented a proposal for a vote Tuesday, but it went under objection from Mr. Underwood and Senator Simmons of North Carolina. Senator Penrose said his suggestions were made to treat the good faith of certain gentlemen and the Democratic leaders rebuffed Senator Penrose's move as an effort to charge the Democrats with impeding the bill.

REPUBLICANS SCORE. After hours of verbal scuffling, interrupted by some actual discussion of tariff, the Republicans scored a point by forcing a recess until tomorrow instead of adjournment, a move which operates to keep the bill before the Senate. During today's partisan clashes Senator Penrose announced he intended to press the bill. When unable to score an agreement for voting Tuesday, he asked for co-operation from the Democrats toward securing final action by February 15.

Senator Underwood and other Democrats protested against the effort to fix a vote Tuesday, considering that debate had been begun only yesterday. This he declared, would be a clear indication that the majority effort to charge the Democrats with impeding the bill.

Senator Underwood added that he would agree to a vote after a week or ten days.

SCORERS FILIBUSTERING. Senator Harrison (Dem.) Mississippi, characterized the filibustering suggestion as "utterly without foundation," but Senator McCumber (Rep.) North Dakota, said he had "a mere suspicion" that a filibuster was planned and Senator Kenyon (Rep.) Iowa, added that "apparently" a filibuster would prevent passage.

During the brief discussion, Senator Harrison charged that there was a "joker" in the wool schedules by which most imported wool would be charged a tariff of 30 per cent instead of the 15 per cent rate in the bill. This, he declared, would be effected by a provision placing the STEAMER CALLS FOR HELP. Unidentified Vessel Supposed to be About 150 Miles from New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—A.S.O.S. call reporting an unidentified steamer in distress were picked up here today by the Naval Communications Bureau. The location of the ship was estimated by means of the radio control to be about 150 miles from New York. Signal letters signified the message indicated it might be the Belgian steamer Cannonier from Bordeaux.

Only a part of the message could be interpreted. "Please arrange to send help," it said, "impossible to send help." Have tried wireless position; have tried wireless position.

It was signed "O.T.K." Navy records of wireless calls do not carry any ship designated by the letters given, but their arrangement indicated that it might be the Belgian steamer.

The coast guard started a cutter to the estimated position. The Cannonier, from Bordeaux, November 21, for New York, was last reported at Bermuda January 9. She is a freight steamer of 1945 tons and was placed in commission recently.

Further information that the vessel is the Cannonier was contained in a radio from the passenger steamer Rotterdam, which has gone to her assistance.

A new estimate of the position of the ship placed her about fifteen miles east of Ambrose Lightship, stationed off the entrance to New York Harbor.

The Shipping Board steamship Polar Board reported by wireless today that she was in distress and asked for help.

The Rev. Otis Carver of Ogden, a Congregational minister, and for more than four years a missionary in Japan, urged the legislators not to pass the bill.

House Committee Satisfied Charges Untrue.

Statement of Exonerated is Made Public.

Steel Magnate Expresses His Gratitude.

(By A. P. Night Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—With the approval of Chairman Walsh, members of the House committee investigating the shipping board declared in a statement today that they were convinced that the charges that Charles M. Schwab received money from the government for his personal expenses while serving as war-time director of the Emergency Fleet Corporation "was not proven, and further that it was not true."

The statement was issued by Representative Steele, Democrat of Pennsylvania, after discussion with the other members who heard the testimony relating to the $25,000 voucher. Its issuance in advance of the full report of the committee was unusual, but members who heard that it had been decided to take such action on the grounds of fairness to one unjustly accused.

When the final report on the whole inquiry is submitted to Congress, it was said that the committee would reiterate in more formal form its belief that the charges were without justification.

Mr. Steele's statement was issued after it had been read by Chairman Walsh, who announced he had no objection to its publication. It follows:

"When asked if he cared to make any statement relative to the hearing held by the select committee on shipping board expenditures on the charges that Charles M. Schwab had received payment for expenses which were charged against the Shipping Board, Emergency Fleet Corporation, to ship construction cost, Mr. Steele replied that members of the committee who heard all the testimony and saw the documents were satisfied that the facts were not proven and further that it was not true."

Mr. Steele further stated this statement was made with the knowledge and consent of the members of the committee.

It was explained by Mr. Steele that there might have been some impropriety in an utterance of this kind from the chairman of an investigating committee in advance of an official finding but that there was urgent demand for an expression in view of Mr. Schwab's public service.

Indication of the committee's feeling was given by Representative Foster, Republican, Ohio, while Mr. Schwab was testifying in New York yesterday.

Mr. Foster said he wanted to express appreciation of Mr. Schwab's work and the confidence he had rendered the country during the war.

CONVINCED BY TESTIMONY.

"Committee members were convinced by the testimony," said Representative Connally, Democrat, Texas, "that Mr. Schwab did not receive a dollar from the United States Shipping Board as compensation or expense while serving as director."

ELECT BISHOP IN NEW YORK.

75 for Dr. Manning and 64 for Dr. Slattery.

MADE UNANIMOUS.

On this ballot Dr. Manning received the separate majority of both the clergy and lay votes, which was necessary to the election of a bishop. The election was then made unanimous.

Just before the balloting the Rev. representative of the Hearst papers, who could be found, just outside the Synod Hall, however, a man was handing to delegates who came out, copies of newspapers containing the attack on Dr. Manning.

The editorial is prefaced by a picture taken from Woods' "Evil Empire" showing savages of Bokoas hating a visiting English missionary. The picture shows naked savages rolling about the ground at the visitor's feet.

The Rev. Dr. Leighton Parks, rector of St. Bartholomew's, replying to the editorial, said in the editorial, said: "The editor of the Hearst paper, who could be found, just outside the Synod Hall, however, a man was handing to delegates who came out, copies of newspapers containing the attack on Dr. Manning."

One thing this convention should consider is that it is now a question whether this is to become a broad-minded Protestant one or a Roman-Catholic Irish republic and the papers can make the most of what I say."

He praised the Roman Catholic church, but said he was opposed to the hostile political religious organization growing up in the country. He declared the only way to save the country of Washington, Jefferson, Adams and Hamilton was to maintain a united Protestant spirit.

"The question is," the editorial asked, "will American clergies of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York imitate those dark-skinned heathen when the reverend Dr. Manning appears before them today and says, 'fall down, roll over and slap your thighs for you surely know a superior Englishman when you see him. I want to be elected your bishop. You need me to ride you with bit and spur.'"

PUBLIC WILL KNOW.

"In a little while the public will know just exactly whether or not the ordinary people of the United States have succeeded in producing a preacher good enough to be bishop of the biggest New York Episcopal diocese."

Edmund L. Baylies, one of the most prominent lay members and the nominator of Dr. Manning, attributed the large gain by Dr. Manning on the third ballot to the effect of the Hearst attacks.

"These attacks were distinctly helpful to Dr. Manning," he said after the election. "It was such an infamous attack that it reacted on the people who put it out and helped the candidate attacked. It was contemptible and beneath contempt."

There was a further reaction on the little intellect as to be influenced against Dr. Manning by it."

Three news handlers appeared outside the Synod House during the most heated part of the election and began to give away sections of the paper containing this sheet. They were driven from the grounds, but took their place on the sidewalk, giving away the papers by the dozens.

CALIFORNIA RECTORSHIP.

Dr. Manning, born in England in 1858, received no less than four theological degrees from as many colleges and universities and has held many important rectorships in the Protestant Episcopal Church in 1888 and a priest in 1891. He married Florence Van Antwerp in Cincinnati in 1895.

During his career in the ministry he had held rectorships in Lancaster, Pa.; Nashville, Tenn.; Redlands, Cal.; and New York. He has been rector of Trinity Church since 1907.

GOVERNMENT SUGAR DEALS UNDER FIRE.

Watta, formerly of the department, testified this sugar was later sold to wholesale grocers and jobbers at that figure for distribution among mill manufacturers, syrup makers and others.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Reports of the wreck of the British steamer Isabella on the island of San Paul, province of Samar, Philippines, on Jan. 21, were given today by the American despatchers of the crew of the vessel, according to reports to the shipping board today from the Governor of Samar.

Investigation by the Governor of Samar revealed that the two Americans, Robert Breille and Mack Malone, found on Tariat Island in Samar province, had deserted the Isabella and reported that it was wrecked in hopes of gaining aid.

THIRTY-SIX LOST.

Thirty-six Filipinos, mostly women and children, were drowned in the wrecking of the three-masted coastwise schooner Filadelfia, blown ashore in a furious storm at the mouth of the Agno River, province of Pangasinan, according to advices received here today.

Most of the schooner were blown away in the storm, passengers and members of the crew, totalling fifty persons on board were helpless as the little schooner was picked up by the gale and pounded to pieces on the rocks.

The scene of the wreck was about 100 miles north of here.

Twelve Filipinos were drowned in the wreck of a launch on the island of Gasuran, near Sorongon province 200 miles south of here, according to advices reaching here.

The launch contained twenty-seven people, was driven on coral reefs.

Indication of the committee's feeling was given by Representative Foster, Republican, Ohio, while Mr. Schwab was testifying in New York yesterday.

But even should satisfactory disposition be made soon of the rights of Japanese nationals, it is declared international questions involved in disposition of Pacific cables in view of Japan's holding the Island of Yap, would perhaps not be denied at once, and at least not until the international communications conference reconvenes.

Possibility also that the discussion of the far eastern policy might be a broader scope was indicated to some when Senator Knox, whose term as Secretary of State was marked by activity in that field, and other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, were in hearing Undersecretary Davis concerning the status of international cables, directed several questions toward other subjects, including Japanese occupation of Vladivostok and Eastern Siberia.

REPLY IS RECEIVED.

The Japanese government's note in the London courier was said at the State Department to meet the points raised by the American government in its communication, and was regarded as little more than an acknowledgment of the receipt of the American note.

At the same time the Navy Department was advised by Admiral Giesels that the American naval court of inquiry there has decided that Lieut. Langdon was the subject of an unwarranted attack by the sentry.

FINDINGS SUMMARIZED.

The findings of the court are summarized by Admiral Giesels as follows: "Langdon was blameless and that the Japanese sentry fired the first shot, and that Langdon was the subject of an unwarranted attack by the Japanese sentry."

The United States asked for a full explanation of the action of the sentry and assurances that such an incident would not again occur. It was assumed at the department that after the thorough investigation promised, the Japanese government would send a more comprehensive reply.

Admiral Giesels said that Gen. O. Japanese commander at Vladivostok, had issued an order declaring that "no regulations have been issued authorizing Japanese sentries to halt passers-by of any nation in the streets of Vladivostok."

NO EXCEPTIONS MADE.

The substance of the Japanese general's order, as transmitted to the department by Admiral Giesels, included a statement that Japanese sentries were to make no exceptions to the rule unless they or the property under their guard were attacked and subjected to actual danger.

All staff officers also were warned by Gen. O. that sentries were instructed to use greater precautions to prevent a repetition of such an occurrence.

I am informed by Japanese staff officers that light sentries are placed on opposite sides of the street from every sentry box to prevent any possibility of the kind in the future," Admiral Giesels' dispatch concluded.

MINISTER EXPLAINS.

(By A. P. Night Wire.)

TOKIO, Jan. 26.—Minister of War Tanaka, replying in the Diet today to an interpellation by Representative Mochizuki of the Opposition party, regarding the killing of Lieut. Langdon in Vladivostok, said the incident was regrettable, having occurred when America and Japan were endeavoring to establish a closer mutual understanding. The matter still is being investigated by Japanese court-martial, he said.

The Minister said the question to be decided was, who was the first to shoot, but judging from the results of the investigation so far, he continued, the only factor remaining undecided was whether the sentry was subjected to such a serious menace as to justify his action.

The hour at which the American officer appeared, using a pocket lamp, might have multiplied the possibilities of a misunderstanding, the Minister declared, and the investigation was being continued.

"Japan was justified in posting sentries in Vladivostok for policing purposes, because she was interested with this important mission by the consular body," he asserted. "For the Japanese troops made no small sacrifice." The difficulty under consideration has not yet been made an international question.

The American local authorities place confidence in the fairness with which Japan is conducting the investigation and will await the result patiently.

Foreign Minister Uchida, discussing conditions in China, said Japan was seeking unification of the contending factions in that country. Unfortunately, however, he said, no reconciliation had been achieved, but he was confident it would come.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—President Wilson and Secretary Colby are expected to decide within a few days whether to receive formally the report of Ambassador Morris, embodying recommendations for settlement of outstanding controversies with the Japanese.

Ambassador Morris today forwarded his report to Secretary Colby. Formal acceptance would carry with it approval of the recommendations in the main, but would still leave the way open to further negotiations to be conducted officially, and with the involvement of both governments any questions arising from the report itself that might, in the opinion of the State Department, or of the Japanese Foreign Office, be composed in some manner other than suggested by the report.

At the same time the Navy Department was advised by Admiral Giesels that the American naval court of inquiry there has decided that Lieut. Langdon was the subject of an unwarranted attack by the sentry.

FINDINGS SUMMARIZED.

The findings of the court are summarized by Admiral Giesels as follows: "Langdon was blameless and that the Japanese sentry fired the first shot, and that Langdon was the subject of an unwarranted attack by the Japanese sentry."

The United States asked for a full explanation of the action of the sentry and assurances that such an incident would not again occur. It was assumed at the department that after the thorough investigation promised, the Japanese government would send a more comprehensive reply.

Admiral Giesels said that Gen. O. Japanese commander at Vladivostok, had issued an order declaring that "no regulations have been issued authorizing Japanese sentries to halt passers-by of any nation in the streets of Vladivostok."

NO EXCEPTIONS MADE.

The substance of the Japanese general's order, as transmitted to the department by Admiral Giesels, included a statement that Japanese sentries were to make no exceptions to the rule unless they or the property under their guard were attacked and subjected to actual danger.

All staff officers also were warned by Gen. O. that sentries were instructed to use greater precautions to prevent a repetition of such an occurrence.

I am informed by Japanese staff officers that light sentries are placed on opposite sides of the street from every sentry box to prevent any possibility of the kind in the future," Admiral Giesels' dispatch concluded.

MINISTER EXPLAINS.

(By A. P. Night Wire.)

TOKIO, Jan. 26.—Minister of War Tanaka, replying in the Diet today to an interpellation by Representative Mochizuki of the Opposition party, regarding the killing of Lieut. Langdon in Vladivostok, said the incident was regrettable, having occurred when America and Japan were endeavoring to establish a closer mutual understanding. The matter still is being investigated by Japanese court-martial, he said.

The Minister said the question to be decided was, who was the first to shoot, but judging from the results of the investigation so far, he continued, the only factor remaining undecided was whether the sentry was subjected to such a serious menace as to justify his action.

The hour at which the American officer appeared, using a pocket lamp, might have multiplied the possibilities of a misunderstanding, the Minister declared, and the investigation was being continued.

"Japan was justified in posting sentries in Vladivostok for policing purposes, because she was interested with this important mission by the consular body," he asserted. "For the Japanese troops made no small sacrifice." The difficulty under consideration has not yet been made an international question.

The American local authorities place confidence in the fairness with which Japan is conducting the investigation and will await the result patiently.

DISCUSSES CHINA.

Foreign Minister Uchida, discussing conditions in China, said Japan was seeking unification of the contending factions in that country. Unfortunately, however, he said, no reconciliation had been achieved, but he was confident it would come.

TO DISCUSS REPORT.

(By A. P. Night Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—President Wilson and Secretary Colby are expected to decide within a few days whether to receive formally the report of Ambassador Morris, embodying recommendations for settlement of outstanding controversies with the Japanese.

Ambassador Morris today forwarded his report to Secretary Colby. Formal acceptance would carry with it approval of the recommendations in the main, but would still leave the way open to further negotiations to be conducted officially, and with the involvement of both governments any questions arising from the report itself that might, in the opinion of the State Department, or of the Japanese Foreign Office, be composed in some manner other than suggested by the report.

There are two principal features of the report, which is comparatively brief, as follows:

TREATY AMENDMENTS.

1.—An amendment to the existing commercial treaty between Japan and the United States which will grant to Japanese subjects lawfully in this country equal civil rights

It will be moved from pier 1 yard in the open sea to handle heavy material to and from piers, cars, barges and ships.

voiced the conviction that trade could not be restored without in effect recognizing the soviet government, and this they were unwilling to do.

Senator France of Maryland, author of the pending resolution, introduced the witnesses as they came forward to read testimony. The testimony was read by Timothy Healy, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers, presented a memorandum which, he said, voiced the wishes of 2,000,000 American workers. He cited the statistics of unemployment in the United States, and said that the public by the Labor Department yesterday, and said: "In view of these hardships that labor is suffering throughout the United States, we feel that our government's policy should be to recognize the soviet government and to trade with Russia immediately."

MUST BEAT ENGLAND.

He declared that if the United States did not supply Russia's needs, England would.

"That will mean months of suffering deprivation, and perhaps starvation for millions of American men, women and children," he said. "The statistics of unemployment in the United States show that we are now facing."

Senator France told the committee that while the American government was refusing to accept Russian gold because the title was not clear, British officials had investigated the title and accepted it.

"They are not accepting gold that was stolen from British nationals," interrupted Senator Keene of Pennsylvania. "I have just been reading the agreement between England and the soviet in regard to this and in effect England agreed to accept gold stolen from the nationals of other countries, but would not take gold stolen from the nationals of Great Britain."

ALLEGED SLAYER WAS BUTTER TOWARD VICTIM OF MURDER. IS TESTIMONY.

(By A. P. Night Wire.)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—Antimosity of William P. Brines toward Elmer C. Drewes, the Dartmouth senior whom he is accused of murdering, was indicated in testimony today in Brines' trial.

"I'll get him if it's the last thing I ever do," Peter S. Malloy of Cullendale, Pa., testified that the University of Pennsylvania sophomore told him in speaking of Drewes, he declared that Brines has asserted that Drewes had defrauded him of $75 or $100 while they were delivering maps, and that the defendant had said with anger that he would not let Drewes go, but would deliver gloves and meat Drewes in a prize ring.

Malloy's mother, Mrs. Rebecca Malloy, corroborated her son's testimony concerning Brines' offer to fight Drewes.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Gordon announced he expected to rest the Commonwealth's case tomorrow. W. A. Gray, counsel for Brines, said he hoped the case would end by Saturday, as among the witnesses for the defense are one or two from California, who, he said, would like to be able to leave for their homes at that time.

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Jan. 26.—Giggling girls who powder and rouge have been barred from jury duty by Judge Louis Repetto of the District Court. Instructions to the jury were given today that women jurors shall contain:

"No women who work in saloons."

"No admixture of men."

"No immature women who giggle, rouge and powder, but do not work."

CABLES QUESTION.

But even should satisfactory disposition be made soon of the rights of Japanese nationals, it is declared international questions involved in disposition of Pacific cables in view of Japan's holding the Island of Yap, would perhaps not be denied at once, and at least not until the international communications conference reconvenes.

Possibility also that the discussion of the far eastern policy might be a broader scope was indicated to some when Senator Knox, whose term as Secretary of State was marked by activity in that field, and other members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, were in hearing Undersecretary Davis concerning the status of international cables, directed several questions toward other subjects, including Japanese occupation of Vladivostok and Eastern Siberia.

REPLY IS RECEIVED.

The Japanese government's note in the London courier was said at the State Department to meet the points raised by the American government in its communication, and was regarded as little more than an acknowledgment of the receipt of the American note.

At the same time the Navy Department was advised by Admiral Giesels that the American naval court of inquiry there has decided that Lieut. Langdon was the subject of an unwarranted attack by the sentry.

FINDINGS SUMMARIZED.

The findings of the court are summarized by Admiral Giesels as follows: "Langdon was blameless and that the Japanese sentry fired the first shot, and that Langdon was the subject of an unwarranted attack by the Japanese sentry."

TALK GERMAN REPARATIONS.

Supreme Council Hears French Minister's Report.

Decides to Recognize Latvia and Estonia.

Lloyd George Takes Umbrage at Paris Newspapers.

(BY CARL AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

PARIS, Jan. 26.—Members of the Allied Supreme Council spent most of the day in conversations discussing reparations. The two meetings were devoted to hearing the statement of the French Minister of Finance, M. Doumer, on reparations and in considering the status of former Russian states.

It was decided that Latvia and Estonia shall be recognized as sovereign states. Action regarding Lithuania and Georgia was deferred. It is expected Georgia's representation will be heard during this conference, but the question on Lithuania may be delayed until after the League of Nations plebiscite in the Vilna region.

ENVOYS IN CONFERENCE.

Premier Lloyd George and President Millerand at lunch discussed the report on reparations made by M. Doumer. After the afternoon session Mr. Lloyd George and M. Doumer, Foreign Minister and Finance Minister of Belgium, went into conference.

Reparations will again come before the Council tomorrow, along with the military experts' reports on disarmament.

Private conversations have been going on between David Lloyd George, British Prime Minister, and Aristide Briand, president of the Council of France, but there was no indication that anything resembling agreement had been reached. The British Premier held the opinion that the amount of indemnity Germany must pay should be definitely fixed, which view was rejected by M. Briand.

PAYMENT QUESTION LOOMS.

At the conclusion of the morning session Premier Lloyd George and Briand took luncheon together for a private discussion of the reparations question.

From information as to the tone of the discussion among the conference as a whole it appeared that the general policy being outlined was that Germany must be made to pay all she could pay, but that it was not to be a question of the most perplexing to the conference. It was said, without how to obtain payment without injury to Allied industries.

LOYD GEORGE ANGERED.

Premier Lloyd George is understood to have taken umbrage to an article in a Paris newspaper criticizing his attitude on various questions now being discussed by the Supreme Allied Council. He has complained bitterly to Premier Briand regarding the tone of the French press.

"Since I am treated this way," the newspaper quotes Mr. Lloyd George as saying, "I tell you I will never come to Paris again."

M. Briand, in consequence, appealed to newspapers to report more moderation in writing of the work of the Supreme Council. "I am not supported by all of you," he declared, "and I am not a pure invention, were printed this morning which do not please my interlocutors. If they on you will make it impossible for any more meetings to be held in Paris."

MILITARY EXPERTS REPORT.

At the military experts' today handed the Supreme Council their report on a plan for disarming German military units. The report gives satisfaction to the French viewpoint on the question, providing for full compliance with all disarmament clauses of the Versailles Treaty.

It concedes to Great Britain a further delay requested Monday by Premier Lloyd George. Two-thirds of the operation of disarmament must be completed by March 1, the work must be finished by July 1.

The decision means that the civil guards and the security police, must be disbanded, as must all other similar organizations not allowed by the Treaty of Versailles. The Council has still to act upon the report, but it was the general opinion that it would approve the conclusions of the experts.

of Accepting Bribe.OSKOLA (Ark.) Jan. 26.—Henry Lowery, negro charged with the murder of C. T. Craig and his daughter at Nodena, Christmas Day, was burned to death by a mob tonight on the Mississippi River levee near the Craig plantation.

Lowery was taken across the river into Arkansas by the men who earlier had taken him from the officers at Nodena, Miss. The negro was driven to Nodena, where the Craig plantation is located, according to information received here. The mob then took him to the levee near the of the crime, and driving a stake into the ground, chained the negro and burned him to death. The mob then dispersed.

MADE GOOD LIVING.
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Rebberly, followed by stock investors, police charged,
provided a lucrative income for Thomas R. Jones, 29, of Brooklyn, until he was arrested today.

Jones, officers said, confessed to having committed more than twenty burglaries. The proceeds, amounting to more than $20,000, he told them, he invested so well that he has an income of several thousand dollars yearly. He was held under $10,000 bail.

DEATH INVESTIGATED.
VANCOUVER (B. C.) Jan. 26.— Police investigation of the death of a man believed to be Roy Cunningham,
railroad man of Spokane,
Washington, who was killed February 11
in a fall from the fifth floor of the Empress Hotel, today developed the fact that the dead man is Daniel Joseph Griffin, address unknown, and that Cunningham is alive in San Francisco. Police said they learned Cunningham was recently robbed of $200 and that papers bearing his name were found in Griffin's possession.

JUDGE DENIES CHARGE.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Denial of an accusation by the San Francisco Bar Association and C.
Vincent Riccardi, state attorney, that he accepted a bribe to dismiss a case of attempted murder was made by Police Judge John J. Sullivan in an action brought by the association seeking his dismissal. Judge Sullivan said he had no dealings with Riccardi, the alleged bribe giver, other than those of attorney and jurist. Judge Sullivan said:

"The hearing is expected to end tomorrow morning.
Bernardino Cattarini, the defendant in the attempted murder case, testified that Riccardi defended him and obtained the dismissal after he had given the attorney $1000, presumably for bail money. He said he had no knowledge of any bribery attempt."

THOUGHT CASE FRAME-UP.
Harold Maundrell, former Assistant District Attorney, who prosecuted the Cattarini case in Judge Sullivan's court, said that while the case was progressing he formed the opinion that it was a frame-up against the defendant and consented to its dismissal.

More than a score of defense
witnesses today characterized Riccardi's character as bad. Peter F. McDonough, bail bond broker, who was accused in an indictment of having tendered a bribe to Judge Sullivan through Riccardi, testified that the bribe accusation was false and no bribery ever was attempted. W.
Donough was tried on the indictment and acquitted recently.

HELD ON MANN ACT.
SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 26.—
Charles D. Seymour, Jr., was bound over today for trial at Salt Lake City, March 8, on a charge of violation of the Mann Act. Seymour, who is said to be of a wealthy family of New York and Gary, Ind., was arrested at Lynn, Nev., last month on a complaint filed at Salt Lake City. Seymour's counsel said he had not intended to violate the Mann Act, and if he was removed to Maryland
it should be to answer to a charge of bigamy.

Seymour was charged with having transported Helen F. Witz of Washington, D. C., to Atlantic City, to Philadelphia, and from there to Baltimore, prior to his marriage to her at Elliott City, Md., in 1915.
Mrs. Helen Seymour of Chicago testified that she married Seymour in 1914 and divorced him in 1920. She denied having informed him prior to his marriage with Miss Witz that she had a divorce. Seymour is alleged to have deserted Mrs. Helen Seymour in Los Angeles last month.

Miss Witz testified she married Seymour June 3, 1919, and that he deserted her in Chicago twelve days later. She said that from the time Seymour left her in Chicago, essentially to go on a short trip, she had not heard from or seen him until today in the courtroom.

Other testimony brought out the fact that Miss Witz risked a large inheritance by her marriage with Seymour. She declared she "believed her marriage to Seymour to have been lawful until revelations in Chicago."

COURTROOM SEARCHED.
WILLIAMSON (W. Va.) Jan. 26.
Presence of an armed man in Circuit Court today at the opening of the trial of twenty-three defendants charged with murder in connection with the killing of ten persons at Matewan last May, caused Judge R. B. Bailey to issue an order directing all persons who enter the room to be searched.

Shortly before adjournment and while witnesses and spectators were leaving, an attorney for the State told the judge that one of the defendants was armed. A hush fell upon the confusion and a moment later the judge resumed his order. The defendants were warned that anyone found with a weapon would be placed in jail until the trial ends.

One of the twenty-four original defendants, B. R. Pass, a negro, failed to appear today, and his bond was declared forfeited. More than eighty witnesses responded, but the roll call revealed 100 were absent.

INCLUDE POLICE CHIEF.
The defendants include Sid Hatfield, Chief of Police of Matewan, a number of workers and a union organizer.

For several months before the battle, organizers of the United Mine Workers of America had been forming local unions among the miners of Mingo county. Employees of the Clifton Mountain Coal Company at Matewan joined the union, and,

as stated at that time, were ordered to move from company houses.
Some of these, however, were still in possession on May 19, and a party of private detectives was sent from Riverside to serve writs of ejectment.
They had completed their work and were on their way to the railroad station when the fight occurred.

"Anas" Hatfield, proprietor of the hotel at Matewan, was looked upon as an important witness in the case.
He was shot dead within a month after the indictments were returned, and Sid Hatfield was there-wards indicted for the killing.

recommend to the Legislature that any Sheriff or officer who permits or does not prevent lynching within his jurisdiction be removed from office.

PLACES SOVIET BLAME.

Tolstoy's Niece, Here as Pianist, Says Her Uncle Caused Bolshevism.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—An exotic creature with great eyes and swaying smile, cardraps in the Comtesse Wandrey de Tolstoy, niece of the late Count Leo Tolstoy. She sat in the Congress Hotel today and discussed religion, art, Bolshevism, the shimmy and the dress of American women in a vivacious French, Russian and English jargon, while her husband, Sergio de Sauro, French-Italian tenor, interpolated enthusiastic comment and explanations. Here are a few extracts from her comments:

"Symbolism is the perfume of life."
"Tolstoy was to blame for the Bolshevik movement."

"An artist never has the social position in a democracy that he or she has in a monarchy."
"America supports concerts better than any country in the world."
"Art needs patrons, and patrons are the result of wealth."
"American women follow the styles too slavishly."

The comtesse, who prefers the name she assumed for professional use as a pianist, Eugene de Primo, to her aristocratic title, believes that her uncle is to blame for Bolshevism because he killed Russian patriots with his doctrine of nonresist-ance.

"He is to blame for the whole movement," she said. "He was opposed to military service and he influenced the youth of the country in his belief that prison was preferable to such service."

HER VIEWS VARY.
The comtesse is at variance with the views of her uncle not only as to patriotic doctrine, but as to religion and music. She has never adopted his radical views. The comtesse is of the orthodox Russian church, and in her honor a special high mass will be said next Sunday at 11:30 at the Russian Catholic Church at 1121 North Leavitt street by Father Metropolsky.

"My uncle was a Christian," but he was opposed to the church," she said. "He objected to its forms and its symbols. Symbolism is the perfume of life. I love the symbolism of the church."

WROTE TOO SOON.
"In music, too, my uncle and I differed. He was made to accompany Liszt, Wagner, Berlioz and Brahms. In early life he knew nothing of music. That was when he wrote the book. Later he learned to appreciate music, but then he had to stand by his guns, as you say."

The comtesse discussed American dancing.
"Your shimmy I do not mind
when it is gracefully done," she said, with a vivacious, descriptive movement of her shoulders. "Grace, I and vulgarity, I abhor."

The members of her family left in Russia escaped from Sebastopol just before the city fell before the attack of Col. Kametz, and fled to Constantinople, where they are now living, the comtesse said.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

Popular Comedienne Tells How To Preserve a Proper Figure.

BY JANE DIXON.

"It is the duty of every woman to keep her figure."

Mrs. Marie Dressler, maker of a million laughs, is not here to mince words on the subject of reducing.

"To make my stand still plainer so that no sister may misunderstand me in the matter, I will go a notch further and say it is the duty of every fat woman to reduce."

The comely comedienne snapped out her opinion, then sat back in her chair in the manner of one who dares another to question her ultimatum.

But who, pray tell, would think of questioning Marie Dressler on a subject she has studied since the days when Weber and Fields Music Hall was the center of metropolitan life?

If you have mellowed to the place where you can turn back the leaves of happy memory, listen to a tall, sweet, beautiful, blondish girl, with a comedy tongue and a positive genius for clowning, warbling the words of the song "A Great Big Girl Like Me."

"A great big girl like me, smiling the meditative smile of happy reminiscence."

"A great big girl like me, very truly yours."

Has very little cause for grief.

"I've always made a lot of money."

Of some stumpy-faced subterfuge.

Not a great big girl like me."

"I weighed 250 pounds when I was that number."

Continued Marie Dressler after a sigh for the song that is gone.

"Those pounds never seemed to affect my popularity in the least."

"A Great Big Girl" is one of the best hits I have ever done on the stage.

More than any other hit it established me in the minds and hearts of the theatregoing public.

"But do not get an idea I was carrying many superfluous pounds in the 250. I am built on a robust plan."

There is a vast difference between a big woman and a fat woman. Today I weigh 164 pounds. If I weighed less I would begin to look like the family hallmark."

"About it being every woman's duty NOT to be fat?" I asked.

"Do you think it is possible for all overweight women to reduce?"

"P-o-s-s-i-b-l-y," was the answer.

"Reducing is a simple procedure, provided a little common sense is displayed in the effort."

"Personally I have never found it necessary to adopt a strict diet, but I know women I would like to put into iron for overeating. I have only one rule for keeping able to look the scales in the face—and fasten enough to satisfy your hunger, then stop. Pigs, calves and animals of all kinds are stuffed and fattened for the market, but it is a mighty poor practice for human beings."

"Is this rule sufficient for reducing?" was my next question.

"In some cases, perhaps," explained Marie Dressler, "but not to any appreciable extent. For real reducing, by the parenthetically youthful comedienne consists of four eggs and four glasses of milk a day."

"Is the morning," she advised, "take a fresh raw egg and beat it well in a glass of milk. Drink and meditate on how much you are going to lose as a result of your punishment. Repeat the dose at noon, in the evening, and when you go to bed."

"As you value your figure do not eat other food, however trifling, while on the milk and egg diet. Be true to the cows and the chickens. At the end of the first week you will find superfluous fat melting away like a chorus girl's complexion on an August night. I have known persons padded with two or three layers of fat to lose as many as ten pounds in a week on an egg and milk diet."

"Such rapid reduction happens only to the painfully fat. As we approach normal weight the melting process slows up. I do not know whether or not an egg and milk diet will subtract weight from a normal built woman who weighs 125 pounds on the coast of those scenic carved-in ladies haunting the pages of fashion magazines. Nor do I care. Such foolish femininities deserve no consideration. Let them go on and be fat. Hoops by whatever size means they can find."

Conversation turned to exercise. I inquired of Marie Dressler what she thought of it as a weight reducer.

"Finest thing on the program," was the reply. "Nothing like getting a move on to get fat."

"Would you mind telling me what exercises you use?" I begged.

"Certainly not," seriously. "Simple in the world—WORK. In a few minutes I am going to exercise myself over to the Winter Garden, where I am rehearsing day and night for the new Tasting Show of 1921."

Then I am going to run over to Anne Morgan's tea room in Thirteenth street—for Devastated France, you know—and cook the crowd a regular longshoreman's dinner. They don't know how to eat, those poor fellows. I promised them for once in their lives they would have a square meal."

"Afterward I am due at the photographer's, and the customer wants to try out and try on, and I have to be back at rehearsal early to help out with some burlesques we are arranging—you should see me at Theda Bara."

"Outside of that my maid has illness in her family and can't be here to help, which puts it straight up to me."

"I've only been up and down the stairs about two dozen times this morning. Give up, my dear, and rest."

"With the exception of those few items which, in one form or another, I do daily during the day, I am practically without exercise. When I am with a road show, I hurry to travel in added to a very little sleep."

Merry Marie began on her third dozen stair trips. She ran on the Making More Money.

Railroad Men's Wife in Small Kansas Town Makes Success of "Wardrobe Exchange."

GEORGE FOGELMAN, of Chanute, Kan., is a railroad conductor and is away from home several nights a week, so Mrs. Fogelman naturally came to the conclusion that she ought to do something in order to make a little money and also to keep from being so lonesome during her husband's absence. For a number of years she had felt that a real need existed for some place where women could dispose of their party worn garments and where they could also, if they wished, secure a "hardly used" clothing which had been completely renovated.

At first Mrs. Fogelman contented herself with calling up a number of her friends on the telephone and telling them of her plan. She asked them to bring her their misty, unbecoming, outgrown or out-of-date garments, making it clear that she would not buy poor materials or dresses which had been long in use.

The response was immediate. Scores of fine dresses, shoes, hats, sweaters, coats and suits were brought in and the problem of having in the stock of the "Wardrobe Exchange" was solved. As the business grew, Mrs. Fogelman proved easy of solution. Nor was the task of securing customers difficult. Many persons who brought garments to be sold found something on hand in the "exchange" which they liked. What they had in mind to sell, they sold. Then Mrs. Fogelman launched a series of small advertisements in the local papers and letters to women in the surrounding territory. As a result, the business grew rapidly.

At first Mrs. Fogelman's business was confined to the sale of party worn garments, but she soon found that she was doing a good deal of business in the sale of "hardly used" clothing which had been completely renovated.

SCOTCH MAY LOSE RIGHT AS GOLFERS.

Ordinance Drawn to Keep
Japs from Links Arrouses
Committee to Wails.

The Griffith Park Municipal Golf Advisory Committee sent a courier to the City Hall yesterday with a wall of protest against any ordinance being enacted barring aliens from the municipal golf links.

"We need the money," is the burden of the committee's appeal.

"How about Canadians, Australians, Brits, and other aliens whose conduct is unobjectionable?"

The golfers set forth that improvements to the course are made with fees collected from golfers and that if golfers Scotchmen are barred it means loss of revenue.

The ordinance was prepared because of complaints that young Japanese golfers had tried on occasions to enter the clubhouse and use the links.

The self-wary Councilmen will tackle the new issue raised by the committee to ascertain if there is any method of keeping peace on the links without plunging the Scotchmen into a storm of protesting.

The ordinance was prepared because of complaints that young Japanese golfers had tried on occasions to enter the clubhouse and use the links.

Woods' court that he has no ready funds at present. He said he expects to receive certain royalties from his plays and books.

BLAMES "OTHER MAN" AND WIFE'S MOTHER.

SCHOETTLE'S DOMESTIC IN-FELICITIES ARE EXPOSED IN DIVORCE FIGHT.

The asserted other man and a wealthy mother-in-law appear to be the ingredients in the troubles of Arthur C. and Gertrude Ann Schoettler whose contested divorce suit is being heard in Judge York's court.

La Compta Davis represents Mrs. Schoettler, Thomas Bradford White is counsel for Mr. Schoettler.

The husband asserts that, aside from paying too much attention to the correspondent, Edward M. Thompson, who is in court to defend his good name, he wife, against his desire, named a great deal of time with her mother, Mrs. W. J. J. J.

The Schoettlers live in San Dimas.

Mr. Davis brought out cross-examination that Mr. Schoettler had been set up in the dry goods business by a loan of $11,000 from his mother-in-law. He says he has repaid all but $4000.

Mrs. Schoettler, who charges her husband with cruelty in a cross-complaint, denies that she miscondemned herself with Mr. Thompson. The case will be continued today.

WANT MORE MAIL ROOM.

Employees Have to Eat in Street,
Postmaster Tells Washington.

Shortage of room to accommodate the fast increasing business at the local postoffice will form the basis of another appeal by Postmaster Brown, to the authorities at Washington for additional quarters.

The situation is so bad that there is not room to accommodate the employees of the local office, and during the winter months, the employees eat their lunches, and it is necessary for them to go out on New High street and get along the best they can.

The congestion of the mail is growing worse every day by reason of the lack of accommodations.

WESTGATE MAIN BEGUN.

First Unit of Long Pipe Being Laid to Carry Aqueduct Water.

Work has been begun under the direction of Chief Engineer Mulholland on the laying of a twenty-four-inch steel water main from the Ventura Commercial Trust and Savings Company's building to the new Westgate district with aqueduct water.

It is thought the work will be completed during the early part of the summer. The entire line is to be twelve and a half miles in length and will cost more than $200,000.

CASE CONTINUED.

Because of another case, the hearing of Franklin B. MacCarthy, formerly a clerk for the Hellman Commercial Trust and Savings Company, his young wife, Mrs. Fay MacCarthy, was continued yesterday by Justice Hinshaw until 3 p.m.

The case involves a charge of forgery in several counts, grand larceny and embezzlement of $14,000 from the bank. They are said to have conducted a systematic scheme of defrauding several thousand dollars.

Dance Frocks

Filmy frocks that are stirred by the slightest breeze and frocks of silk heavy enough to stand alone are the two contrasts of the season in dresses for dance wear.

Apricot, orange and jade for colors and a preference for silver instead of gold tissue as trimmings are inclinations of mode for Spring.

A frock of blue taffeta has tiers of scallops on the sides of the skirt, picotied in silver thread. Front and back panels are veiled with cream georgette. The bodice is, of course, sleeveless and slightly draped, without trimming.

Ruchings of taffeta arranged in small and larger circles are the only ornaments of a debutante frock in shell pink.

The frock sketched is of poul de soie in silver-tone pink. Scallops edged with narrow velvet ribbon and silk net in American Beauty shade finish the skirt and overskirt. The bodice repeats the same blending of colors. This frock is priced at $145.00.

THIRD FLOOR

All are reduced to ¼ less than regularly.

In the all-white Satin Marseilles Bedspreads, the lowered prices are:

72x90 Hemmed Spreads, twin bed size.....	$5.75
80x90 Hemmed Spreads, double bed size.....	$6.75
88x98 Hemmed Spreads, double bed size.....	$9.35
90x100 Hemmed Spreads, double bed size.....	$11.25
82x92 Scallop Spreads, double bed size.....	$9.60

SECOND FLOOR

Navy Blue Suits

Navy and midnight blue Suits in the new spring models are the smart tailors for which many young women have been waiting.

The jacket of one of these new models in Poiret twill is on such flaring lines as to almost give the effect of a cape with set-in sleeves. It is embroidered lavishly on the lower edge and collar with bugle beads, tinsel thread and black silk embroidery.

Slashed panels are popular motifs in many of the tailor-mades now being shown for the first time. Wide silk braid outlines the panels in one model. In another, narrow silk braid all over the coat gives the appearance of stripes.

Long revers with a single link fastening at the waist-line are noticed on several of these navy suits. The semi-tuxedo collars are also used effectively.

THIRD FLOOR

TELLS OF ROW AND SHOOTING.

Sister-in-Law of Slain Man Describes Tragedy.

Says Maybelle Roe Killed Graydon at Venice.

Saw Her "Slip Up and Fire at Back of Victim."

Miss Joan Marshall, a sister of Mrs. McCullough Graydon, whose husband was slain at 36 Sherman avenue, Venice, Sept. 1, 1920, was the star witness for the prosecution at the trial of Mrs. Maybelle Roe in Judge House's court yesterday.

She was not only an eyewitness of the killing of McCullough Graydon, but saw the revolver with which he was slain in the hands of Mrs. Roe, she said.

Miss Marshall detailed the incidents leading up to the shooting. She said she saw Mr. Graydon struck in the face when the row started on the lawn; saw her brother-in-law stooping, knees bent, and observed Mrs. Roe slip back of him.

She declared that Mrs. Roe held a revolver in both hands and fired from a distance of only a foot and a half from Mr. Graydon, the bullet entering his back. When her brother-in-law fell and the participants in the fight were standing around, she said she asked the chauffeur to drive her to the police station.

The defense did not cross-examine Miss Marshall at any great length. They do not deny that Mrs. Roe fired the fatal shot, but assert she discharged the weapon when it appeared that the life of Oscar A. Bowers, one of her friends, was in danger from Graydon's attack. Mr. Bowers is a cripple.

Clarence Lloyd Atkins, the chauffeur who drove Mrs. Graydon to the Venice bungalow and was a witness to the shooting of Mr. Graydon, described the revolver which he saw in Mrs. Roe's hand. This weapon has since been disappeared. Miss Marshall declared she had no recollection of the day.

Deputy Sheriff R. A. Conley testified that he went to the Venice bungalow to put Mr. Graydon in possession. He carried out the Doane bag and suit cases and placed them on the sidewalk. He did this because, he said, he could not wait any longer for their return.

The jury trying the case comprises Mrs. Minnie T. Frasier, J. S. Mustie, Nellie Lincoln, Mrs. Alice L. Henderson, Mrs. W. A. Cochran, Edgar H. Howe, Frank R. Willey, W. J. Shugart, Henry O. Boyd, William Kettie, Neb. He is being held in the City Jail.

Much Oriental Trade to be Diverted to Harbor.

Pacific and Coast-to-Coast Carriers Cut Costs.

Many Sailings Here Aid to Clinch Our Supremacy.

Announcement of a cut in rates which will tend greatly to increase shipping at the local port was made yesterday by officials of the Los Angeles Pacific Navigation Company.

The company's receipt of word that an agreement has been reached between the trans-Pacific steamship companies and the coast-to-coast carriers which will divert a large amount of Oriental business through Los Angeles Harbor.

American shippers have for some time faced strong competition with foreign ship owners in the Orient. Shippers of the Far East have been sending their goods by way of the Suez Canal, but with the placing in effect of rates received by the American line and the new trans-Pacific program, a large amount of business will be sent to Los Angeles and New Orleans at the same rate as that made by European competitors.

Several weeks ago the foreign ship owners announced a cut of 20 per cent in their rates. This rate has been met by the American line and with the new trans-Pacific program, a large amount of business will be sent to Los Angeles and New Orleans at the same rate as that made by European competitors.

The rates from the Orient apply to New York and to New Orleans, with service to Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio and Illinois river points by the government barge service. This, say the ship owners, will make Los Angeles the gateway of Oriental importing for the greater part of the United States.

MRS. H. O. PETERS, of Kansas City, Mo., whose experience with Tanlac has been nothing less than wonderful, declares her husband. After her improvement he takes it himself and his health is also restored.

"One day a friend persuaded my wife to take Tanlac and the results have been nothing less than wonderful. Her troubles have not only entirely disappeared, but she has actually gained twenty pounds in weight and now seems to be in perfect health. She has suffered for eight years with headaches, nervousness and loss of appetite and was in a badly run-down condition. She could not eat much, had pains all through her body and limbs and was so weak at times she could hardly stand on her feet. She was losing weight and gradually getting worse all the time in spite of all we could do."

"After seeing the splendid results my wife was getting I began taking Tanlac myself and before I had finished my second bottle, I was eating things I had not dared touch before in a long time. I am now eating just as much as before and my appetite is fine. I suffered for five years with the worst kind of stomach trouble and nervous indigestion, but it has relieved me entirely. We both owe Tanlac a great debt of gratitude."

The above enthusiastic statement was made recently by Herbert O. Peters, well-known citizen of Kansas City, Missouri, residing at 534 Walnut Street.

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by the Owl Drug Stores. A personal Tanlac representative is at their Fifth and Broadway store afternoons. —Advertisement.

Rawson, wealthy young resident from Seattle, aviator and amateur athlete, tonight ended his sixth day in a state of coma following his boxing bout at the Pasadena Y.M.C.A., with his condition unchanged. Doctors are unable to say what the outcome of the case will be.

There were no new developments in the case today. Beyond stating that Mr. Rawson was still unconscious and there was no change in his condition since last night, residents of the house of Mr. and Mrs. E. Sierra Madre Raises Money by Popular Subscription.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) SIERRA MADRE, Jan. 26.—Backed by the sentiment of practically every property holder here, a Chamber of Commerce committee raised $2600 in less than two days for the purchase of fire protection apparatus. This sum has been applied as part payment on a $13,000 combination chemical and hose engine.

After this Chamber of Commerce committee's campaign, the city trustees passed a resolution calling for a bond issue to cover this outlay and provide headquarters for a fire department and necessary paraphernalia in fighting fires. A recent bond issue covered the cost of installing suitable water hydrants at necessary locations in the city.

A volunteer fire department has been organized with Earl D. Topping as chief. Forty members have been enrolled. Under the auspices of this organization, a fireman's ball was held at the Women's club-house last night. About 600 tickets were sold. The club-house was packed to the doors. Dancing and card playing gave the crowds much enjoyment. It is estimated the proceeds will amount to between $400 and $500, which will be used in purchasing uniforms and furnishings for the fire fighters and their club-rooms.

FIRE TRUCK KILLS

RIVERSIDE WOMAN.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) RIVERSIDE, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Nita Schrader, aged 35 years, died at the Riverside Community Hospital at 1:30 this afternoon from injuries received at 10 o'clock this morning.

When the car driven by her husband, Dr. Schrader, well-known local optician, was struck by a heavy motor vehicle engine of the fire department, which was responding to an alarm of fire.

Both machines were wrecked, the engine being the most recent apparatus acquired by the fire department and costing upwards of $10,000. The payments, in fact, have not yet been completed by the city. Dr. Schrader, who escaped from the wreck with slight bruises and scratches, was driving north on Main street and was crossing Thirteenth street when he saw the engine bearing down upon him. He states that he increased his speed in order to avoid a collision, but the heavy truck and the lighter car was forced across the 100-foot street and into the curb on the west side of the street, where Mrs. Schrader was thrown through the windshield and against the curb with terrific force. Only the steering wheel saved the driver.

The Schrader car was struck with such force that it lurched across the sidewalk and against a brick building located on the northwest corner of the intersection. The fire engine, which was driven by W. A. Rogers, plunged into the same corner turning end for end and after its front truck had been torn off by contact with the curb.

INSURANCE MEN
TALK ON SALES.

Life Underwriters Meet for Comparison of Notes.

National Association Head Speaks at Session.

Experts Compare Values of Different Policies.

Methods of selling life insurance,
opening talks and closing arguments,
the advantages of the different classes of life insurance, and the many forms of life insurance policies were freely discussed yesterday at a sales congress of the Los Angeles Life Underwriters' Association. While the talks were primarily intended for those engaged in the profession of selling life insurance, a large number of others interested in the different phases of insurance attended the morning and afternoon sessions at Choral Hall and joined in the discussions of the different subjects.

The Congress was opened at 10 a.m. when W. K. Murphy, president of the Los Angeles association, welcomed the visitors from other cities and those from the East. In his address Mr. Murphy declared the profession of selling life insurance in Los Angeles is one of the leading activities and added that all of the several hundred men engaged in the business are as studious as any other professional men.

Orville Thorp, president of the National Underwriters' Association, responded to the address of welcome.
Mr. Thorp is here from Dallas, Tex.
There are other experts in the life insurance business here to attend the congress, among them Charles W.
Scovel of Pittsburgh, Pa., former president of the national association.

FOLLOWED BY FORUM.

The principal address of the morning session was delivered by Mr.
Scovel, who talked on life income and old age insurance. Several other minute talks on this subject followed, entered into by W. H. Hendy, L. L.
Test, A. J. Chipman, F. O. Bristol and W. O. Youngblood, and then the subject was discussed in open forum.
Addresses were also made at the morning session by James L. Collins, Jack Mathews, George Hodel,
C. K. Brust, G. A. Glat, Lovell
Swisher, Jr., Samuel McCurdy and Mr. Thorp.

At the afternoon session more discussions and addresses were heard. Mr. Scovel opened the meeting with an address on business insurance and F. O. Bristol discussed
"Insurance to Pay Estate and Inheritance Tax." At the close of this talk there were some remarks on sidelights of the subjects and then the general subject of insurance was freely discussed from the floor.

OF BENEFIT TO WOMEN.

George W. Ayars spoke on "Bequest Insurance," and "How to Sell Larger Policies" was the subject of F. O. Durnest. Several women entered into the discussion of bequest insurance and Rose Hendes explained the value of endowment insurance to women. "The Life Insurance Salesman" was the subject of an interesting talk by Charles W.
Helsor.

The visitors and the local underwriters attended a dinner at 4:45 p.m. at the Pacific Mutual Auditorium. At this session Charles Warren Pickell of Detroit talked on "Human Interest Stories." Mr. Scovel made a short address and Ryan Weaver, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, told of the "Business Man's Attitude Toward Life Insurance and the Life Insurance Agent." The closing address of the day was made by Mr.
Thorp.

17-year-old Mexican, for the murder of John Miller, a ranch foreman, at Sperry Station last September, committed to life imprisonment was made yesterday by the Mexican Consul here through Attorneys Orfila and Orfila.

Orfila, Mexican consuls in Arizona and Southwestern States, Judge Curtis of San Bernardino county, who sentenced Ruiz, and the lawyers who disagreed at the trial of the Eduardo Miranda, who was jointly charged with Ruiz in the case, also wrote to Gov. Stephens asking that the sentence be commuted, according to Attorneys Orfila. Ruiz was sentenced to hang on the 24th inst., but has since been granted a reprieve.

At the time that Ruiz was first sentenced to hang in October, Miranda, another Mexican youth, was sentenced to San Quentin for life for the murder of Miller.
Both youths pleaded guilty to first degree murder. Miranda was later released. According to Attorneys Orfila, the youths testified that Miranda had told them that the murdered man had a large sum of money in his possession, and that Miranda had suggested robbery. Miller was shot by Ruiz on Sept. 22, 1920, when he returned to his home
at Sperry Station in the evening.

THEATER MAN LOSES.

Falls in Suit to Recover Fire Loss
from Roofing Company.

The Pioneer Water Proofing and Roofing Company was awarded judgment by Judge Avery yesterday in a suit brought by C. L. Nye, the Sterling Fire Insurance Company of Indianapolis and other insurance companies, to recover the loss on the Loring Theater Building in Riverside, destroyed by fire October 19 last, through the alleged negligence of the defendants.

It was declared by the plaintiffs that while the defendants were roofing a building adjoining the theater, gasoline was poured into a caldron of hot tar; that the tar caught fire and the flames spread to Mr. Nye's property. The defendants denied putting gasoline in the tar and disclaimed any negligence. The plaintiffs asked damages in the sum of $14,125.88.

SUN OIL

50c PER SHARE

Mr. R. W. Edens has just established a record of sinking the Ventura well 2500 feet in twenty days. Mr. R. W. Edens drills all our wells. He is a stockholder and director of our company. His success speaks for itself. Ask him about our holdings. Mr. W. A. Brophy, who superintended the drilling of Mr. E. H. Doheny's first well 28 years ago, is a California Geologist of unquestioned ability. He states our first well in his opinion is certain to be an immense producer.

Secure the facts, learn who our neighbors are, note our proximity to the actual producing wells of the field. See for yourself where our nine leases are located. Consider the personnel of our officers and directors. We mean to get oil quick, not one well, or two, but expect to have steam up on the third well before the first is actually completed. We control many of the field's choicest and most valuable leases, the intrinsic stock values because of these holdings have immense potential possibilities.

Huntington Beach seems certain to produce millions of liquid gold, we're right in the heart of things. Speed with safety shall be our watchword; stock is being rapidly subscribed.
